Faculty, get CPH Certified in 2023!

COMMON QUESTIONS

Am I Eligible?
YES. As long as you have been teaching (or working) in public health for 3 years or more. Faculty can sit for the CPH exam at a reduced rate of $150 during 2023.

Are results Private?
YES. Your exam results will be private. Only the names of faculty who pass the exam will be published in our CPH search. Unsuccessful attempts will not be public.

Am I likely to Pass?
YES. You already have much of the knowledge needed. With a +80% pass rate, our eligibility is set to ensure candidates have the knowledge and experience needed. Take our practice exams to gauge your preparation.

Do I get a discount?
YES. Take your exam in 2023 and save over 50%, paying just $150 to test and lead by example.

LEAD BY EXAMPLE

Students look up to faculty for guidance on professional development strategies. Lead by example and get “Certified in Public Health”

QUICK FACTS ABOUT THE EXAM

- The exam is offered all year round
- There are 200 multiple-choice questions
- You receive a four-hour window, with most finishing in three hours
- Test from the comfort of your home or office via Live Online Proctor, or visit a Computer-Based Testing Center

APPLY NOW FOR THE CPH EXAM

Faculty must apply through CPH Central at https://www.nbphe.org/apply-now/
EXAM CONTENT
The CPH exam is developed using the industry-wide psychometric standards to measure competency in public health. It covers the areas of knowledge relevant to contemporary public health. The exam content outline is based on a recent Job Task Analysis.

DEMONSTRATED SUCCESS

- The CPH designation demonstrates mastery of the foundational competencies in public health.

- Ongoing certification shows a deep commitment to the highest standards in public health and growth in the field.

- Faculty holding their CPH raise the bar, enhancing the public health profession through exemplary academic and leadership skills.

- The Certified in Public Health (CPH) exam is administered by the National Board of Public Health Examiners (NBPHE).

- To date, more than 11,000 individuals have passed the CPH exam.

FACULTY CERTIFICATION MATTERS

"At USF we take seriously our responsibility to prepare our students for professional practice. We require them to pass the CPH exam to graduate. And so it is an important and powerful statement for our students to see so many of our faculty proudly including “CPH” in their signature lines. We even reflect it on the nameplates outside their office doors. Once a few faculty take the exam and pass, others are more comfortable doing so and happy to join the ranks of the certified!"

- Donna J. Petersen, ScD, MHS, CPH, FAAAS
Chief Health Officer
Interim Associate Provost, Student Health and Wellness
Dean, College of Public Health
Senior Associate Vice President, USF Health
University of South Florida

For more information contact the NBPHE at info@nbphe.org or 202-296-3050